

George Washington Model United Nations International Summit

Beijing 2027

July 1-11, 2027, Beijing, China

Delegate Handbook

* This is the official document of the GWMUN 2027 summit. By registering and participating for the summit, all delegates acknowledge full reading and acceptance of all provisions herein.

Preface

Welcome all delegates to the George Washington Model United Nations International Summit Beijing 2027. Combining closed-door academic training, formal MUN sessions and Beijing cultural study tours, this summit enables youth delegates to experience multilateral diplomacy in-depth. It fosters global awareness, research-writing, public-speaking and multilateral negotiation skills. This handbook covers very important information including academic rules, schedules, discipline, awards & certification, logistics & safety, referral policy and refund policy, etc. All delegates shall read and abide by these rules to guarantee smooth operation of the summit.

1. Project Overview

1.1 This is a fully closed-camp program with one single committee: United Nations Environment Programme (UNEP) under the double-delegate system. Delegates are divided into primary, junior high and senior high school groups: Primary(Age 11-12), Junior High(Age 13-14), Senior High(15-18). The summit consists of three sessions: closed-door pre-conference training (July 1-4), formal MUN conference (July 5-7), Beijing study tour (July 8-11). Delegates will be dismissed onsite at tourist attractions on July 11 when the tour ends.

2. Committee & Academic Arrangements

2.1 United Nations Environment Programme (UNEP)

Only UNEP is established for this summit. All delegates conduct research, negotiation, speech-delivery, document drafting and voting within this committee. Each country seat is occupied by two co-delegates who jointly fulfil all academic assignments.

2.2 Pre-Conference Submission

All delegates shall submit the Position Paper by May 31, 2027. Position papers serve as critical reference for debate and evaluation.

2.3 Working Language

Full English for speeches and written documents

2.4 Academic Documents

Position Paper, Working Paper, Draft Resolution

2.5 Chair Composition

Senior MUN chairs, Deputy chair, Chair assistant

2.6 Summit Special Events

- Student Volunteer Team
- Diplomatic Social Gala
- Best Delegation / Best Bloc Award

3. AI Academic Regulations

1. Delegates may use AI tools for literature research, idea brainstorming and grammar proofreading. It is strictly prohibited to use AI to fully write position papers, working papers, draft resolutions, speeches and all other academic documents.
2. The core viewpoints, logical frameworks and expressions of all submitted academic documents must be created by delegates themselves. The Organizing Committee reserves the right to conduct plagiarism and AI detection on all the delegate's academic submissions.
3. Penalties for violations:
 - First offence: Verbal warning, required revision within time limit and deduction of academic score.
 - Second offence: Disqualification from all awards.
 - Severe fraud (fully AI-generated or copied documents): Immediate disqualification from the conference. No certificates will be issued.

4. Delegates shall keep research notes. The Chair Panel may inquire delegates about the writing ideas at any time to verify independent creation.

4. Rules of Procedure Details

1. Roll Call: The committee starts with roll call. Delegates reply “Present” or “Present and Voting” to confirm attendance and quorum. Session and voting can only proceed once the quorum is met.
2. Speaker's List: Delegates may apply to be added to the speaker's list and deliver speeches in order. The time limit for each speech will be announced by the Chair at the start of the session. Questions or comments may be raised after a speech.
3. Forms of Caucus
 - Moderated Caucus: Managed by the Chair with set total time and individual speaking time. Delegates speak in turns on designated subtopics.
 - Unmoderated Caucus: Delegates may leave seats for face-to-face diplomatic negotiation. Loud disturbance is forbidden. All delegates must return to seats once time expires.
4. Motions: Delegates may motion for caucus, close the speaker's list, close debate or move into voting procedure. A motion needs a second, then it will be debated or voted upon under the Chair's approval.
5. Voting: Divided into procedural voting and substantive voting. Procedural votes are held by a show of hands. Substantive votes (for draft resolutions) are conducted by written ballot. No disruptive behavior is allowed.
6. Point of Order & Point of Inquiry: A Point of Order may be raised if a delegate identifies a procedural error. A Point of Inquiry is used to ask questions about rules. Both may only be raised when no delegate is speaking.

5. Academic Record Requirements

1. All delegates shall keep personal academic notes throughout the conference, recording other nations' stances, key negotiation points, consensus and disagreements. The Chair Panel may inspect notes at any time.
2. After each session, delegates shall summarize key discussion points for academic review.
3. Official session records (roll call, speeches, motions, voting results) will be archived by the Chair Panel as reference for academic evaluation.
4. Delegates shall retain all drafts and research materials for originality and AI authenticity checks by the Chair Panel.

6. Mandatory Requirements for Document Writing

1. Position Paper

- Deadline: Submit before the pre-conference deadline announced by the Organizing Committee. Late submission leads to score deduction. Submissions after grace period will not be accepted.
- Content framework: National background, relevant historical policies, core national concerns and feasible solutions.

- Format: Use official template with delegate nation, committee and topic clearly marked. Word count follows conference rules.

2. Working Paper

- Must be co-submitted by at least two delegates to summarize consensus and promote discussion.
- Only agreed viewpoints are included. Formal resolution clause format is not required.

3. Draft Resolution

- Consists of Preambulatory Clauses and Operative Clauses.
- Requires a specified number of sponsors and signatories for submission. It may be debated and amended before final voting.

4. Amendment: Divided into friendly amendments and unfriendly amendments, to be reviewed following conference procedure.
5. All documents must adopt formal UN diplomatic written style. Colloquial language, memes and internet slangs are prohibited.

7. Copyright & Intellectual Property Rules

1. Copyright of position papers, working papers, draft resolutions and other written works completed by students during the conference belongs to the students. The Organizing Committee holds the non-commercial right to use, display and archive these works for academic review and exhibition (with prior student consent).
2. The Organizing Committee owns the copyright of photos, videos and audio recorded during the conference. By registering for the conference, delegates and their guardians consent to non-commercial use of such materials for conference promotion and achievement display. Objection must be submitted in writing to the organization committee/team on registration day.
3. Delegates are forbidden to copy copyrighted writings from other institutions or individuals without authorization for conference documents.
4. No individual may use conference documents, recordings or videos for commercial purposes without written permission from the Organizing Committee.

6. Neat casual clothes are permitted for evening informal academic writing sessions, while overly casual outfits are still not allowed.
7. Beijing Sightseeing Session: Casual everyday clothing, or sports suits.

12. Discipline & Safety Regulations

12.1 Electronic-Device Policy

During training and formal conference, mobile phones must remain silent. Unauthorized use will result in immediate confiscation by Secretariat staff with no exceptions until the end of the day.

12.2 Off-Campus Permission

No independent off-campus leaving during training and conference, day or night. Special-case leave requires multi-level written approval from group supervisors, training teachers / committee chairs and organizing committee to the natural parents' written application.

12.3 Attendance

Full attendance for training and conference is required. Written leave application is needed for sickness or special personal matters. Unexcused absence or repeated tardiness will lower academic scores and affect award eligibility.

12.4 Academic Integrity

Plagiarism and full-document AI ghost-writing are strictly prohibited. Violators will be disqualified from awards and academic scoring. Negotiation and debate shall follow diplomatic etiquette; personal attacks and mockery are forbidden. Follow chairs' instructions to maintain order.

12.5 Study-Tour Safety

Obey group supervisors during study tour. Report physical discomfort or emergencies to on-site staff immediately.

13. Personal Safety Guarantee

1. Administration staff will be on duty 24 hours throughout the program. Night roll call will be conducted during accommodation period.
2. Delegates with physical discomfort may contact on-site staff anytime. The committee has an emergency medical channel for quick hospital transfer, and guardians will be notified immediately.
3. During the closed camp, delegates shall not leave the camp or venue without permission. For leave application, written request from guardians and committee approval are required, and delegates must be accompanied by assigned staff.
4. It is forbidden to connect wires privately, use high-power electrical appliances, open fire or other dangerous items in dormitories/hotel rooms. Climbing and throwing objects from height are prohibited.
5. Physical conflict, bullying and verbal harassment between delegates are strictly forbidden. Once found, the committee will intervene immediately and inform guardians.

14. Emergency Response Plan for Incidents

1. Sudden illness / injury: On-site staff will provide first aid. Severe cases will be sent to hospital immediately with guardians notified.
2. Conflicts and disputes: Administration and chairs will separate involved parties, stop conflict and conduct investigation. Penalties including warning, temporary suspension or disqualification may apply. Guardians will be informed.
3. Fire, power cut, extreme weather: Follow broadcast instructions. Staff will guide orderly evacuation to assembly point and take headcount.
4. Public opinion or disorder: The team will be responsible to stabilize the scene and control information dissemination. Security support will be called if necessary.
5. For all emergencies, the lead administrator is the sole spokesperson. Delegates shall not release unconfirmed information externally.

15. Awards, Certification & Evaluation Criteria

15.1 All delegates completing core session (Formal MUN Conference) receive participation certificates. Awards are granted within each school-level group.

1. Official Participation Certificate: Issued to all participating delegates.
2. Best Position Paper (Age-Group Award): Seniors (Aged 11-12), Middle (Aged 13-15), Juniors (Aged 16-18), 1 winner each group respectively.

5. Innovative Value: Feasibility, originality and practical reference value of proposed solutions: 10%

Members of the Review Committee shall score independently. Scores will be weighted and aggregated to determine awards based on participants' overall performance throughout the event with following Additional Notes:

- In case of tied total scores, the score for Academic Competence shall prevail.
- The Review Committee reserves the right to disqualify participants for rule violations, unexcused absences or other breaches.
- Judges' scoring results constitute the final decision.

16. Financial Regulations

1. All official conference fees are collected uniformly by the Organizing Committee. Delegates are prohibited from private transactions, fund-raising, purchasing on behalf of others, money transfer or lending among participants.
2. Conference supplies (handbooks, name tags, stationery, venue equipment, hotel room-cards, hotel facilities, etc.) are provided by the committee. Delegates shall take good care of them. Compensation at original price is required for man-made damage or loss.
3. No extra on-site fees will be charged by the Organizing Committee. Any private collection of fees under the name of staff is not official. Please refuse payment and report to the administration team immediately.

17. Delegates Referral Rules

17.1 Eligibility

- Eligible Referrer: Delegate who has completed registration on the GWMUN 2027 Beijing Summit website; fully paid the registration fee as per the agreement he/she signed without any refund till May 1st 2027.
- Eligible Referee: Referred delegate who has completed registration on the GWMUN 2027 Beijing Summit website and has fully paid the registration fee as per the agreement he/she signed.

17.2 Bonus Terms

1. For each fully-paid eligible referee with no subsequent refund, the referrer earns a bonus of USD 150 or CNY 1,100.
2. If a refund is processed for the referred delegate, bonus equals 5% of the net amount actually received by the organizing committee.

3. One bonus per referred delegate. Should multiple parties claim the same referral bonus, the organizing committee holds full discretion to decide entitlement.
4. Bonus is paid only once for the first-year participation of each new delegate. If that referee refers further delegates, bonus belongs to that referee.
5. Any tax liabilities arising from referral bonuses shall be borne solely by the referrer.
6. The organizing committee may withhold or recover bonuses obtained by error, fraud, illegal acts or breach of these rules.

17.3 How to Refer

Referred delegates shall register and pay through official website: <https://www.gwmun.com>

17.4 Time of referral bonus payment: Before 2027.06.30th.

17.5 Prohibited Conduct

a) No misrepresentation of the organizing committee, bonus criteria or bonus amounts. Do not state that bonus terms are permanent. b) Paid advertising for the referral program is prohibited, including but not limited to Baidu, Google, Facebook, Twitter, Bing, Craigslist. c) Fraud and abuse of the referral program are forbidden.

17.6 Violations may result in termination of referral-program eligibility and denial / recovery of bonuses.

17.7 Note: Self-referral is invalid. Delegates may refer household family members and siblings.

17.8 All rules and regulations in this article are abstracted from Delegates Referral Rules published on the website and are subject to the terms stipulated in that policy.

18. Refund Policy

18.1 Online MUN course with a currency value of USD 600 / CNY 4,000 is only free/complimentary for delegate who have registered and fully paid: The online course is complimentary only for delegates who fully attend the formal conference July 5-7,2027.

1. Before March 31, 2027: Refund of paid amount minus the online-course fee (USD 600 / CNY 4,000).
2. April 1-April 30, 2027: 50% refund of remaining paid amount after deducting the online-course fee.
3. On or after May 1, 2027: No refund. Delegate substitution is allowed with prior notification to the Secretariat.
4. Once full registration fee is settled, no refund for the Beijing study tour if delegate cancels the tour for personal reasons.
5. Force Majeure: If the summit is cancelled due to force majeure (natural disaster, public-health emergency etc.), refunds will also deduct the online-course fee (USD 600 / CNY 4000).

18.2 Refund Application Process

Submit refund request via email within 5 working days after online-course account assignment to gwmun-info@smoaeducation.org. Email subject format: Refund Request + School + Delegate Name + Request Date

18.3 All rules and regulations in this article are abstracted from Refund Policy published on the website and are subject to the terms stipulated in that policy.

19. Terms for Guardians / Chaperones of Young Minors

19.1 Delegates aged 12 and under are defined as young minor delegates. If not accompanied by a parent for the entire duration of the summit, a group guardian / chaperone is mandatory. Chaperone ratio: at least one adult chaperone per 10 young minor students; groups with fewer than 6 students shall also be assigned at least one chaperone. Chaperones must be at least 18 years old. High school students under 18 are prohibited from serving as chaperones for young minor delegate groups. During delegate registration, the chaperone shall submit parental signed informed consent and liability waiver forms and emergency contact documents to the Summit Organizing Committee. Delegates missing these documents will be denied check-in and admission, and all fees paid shall not be refunded.

19.2 Chaperones shall register separately via the dedicated chaperone portal on the summit official website and pay the meals and accommodation fee at the rate of USD 600.00 / CNY 4,000. Chaperones must verify their ID information upon check-in and summit ID copy.

19.3 Chaperone Responsibilities and Obligations

- Submit parental signed informed consent and liability waiver forms and emergency contact documents for all delegates;
- Collect and carry with them all students' allergy histories, regular medications and emergency contact information;
- Accompany and supervise students throughout the event, and handle sudden health or emotional issues of students;
- Observe conference sessions (seating for observers is available in selected venues);
- Provide off-site guidance for students on document writing and position preparation;
- Liaise with the Conference Secretariat to submit leave applications and medical notifications;
- Stay in the same hotel as the student group, conduct nightly room checks; ensure no young minor delegate stays in a room alone.

Prohibited conduct for chaperones:

- Enter the committee room to speak on behalf of students or draft working papers for them;
- Whisper cues or intervene in student debates inside the committee room;
- Cast votes or occupy delegate seats.
- Chaperones are supervisory mentors, not competing delegates. They will not be assigned country seats nor be eligible for competition awards. Passing notes or giving verbal cues to students secretly inside the committee room constitutes a violation. Penalties include deduction of delegate points, formal warnings, revocation of awards for the whole team, or in serious cases, expulsion of the entire delegate team led by the chaperone.

20. Accompanying Parent Terms

20.1 Delegates may choose to be accompanied by a parent throughout the summit. Accompanying parents may observe sessions, attend the Opening / Closing Ceremonies, collect conference materials, join Beijing sightseeing and participate in part or all activities. Parents must register separately via the dedicated portal on the homepage of the official website, and bear all fees (meals, accommodation, material production cost, event insurance, etc.) at the rate of USD 600.00 / CNY 4,000. At check-in, parents shall verify their ID individually and summit ID copy, and tick the box on the liability waiver stating "Parent is present in person for the whole conference; no chaperone delegation required".

20.2 Training venues and committee rooms shall not be freely accessible to parents to avoid disruption of training and formal debates. Due to limited observer seats in committee rooms, parents must make advance reservations if they wish to enter. Once inside the committee room, parents must not interfere with proceedings, speak or coach their children.

20.3 When a parent accompanies the delegate in person, the parent holds guardianship responsibility. If the parent leaves the summit venue after arranging the child, the parent must appoint a chaperone and sign informed consent, liability waiver and emergency contact documents to delegate guardianship to the on-site chaperone, who shall exercise guardianship in accordance with the signed documents.

20.4 Parent quota restriction: only one parent is permitted to check in as the accompanying adult per delegate.

21. Supplementary Provisions

1. This document is the official student handbook for GWMUN 2027 Beijing Summit. The organizing committee may reasonably adjust schedules, agenda and activities, or modify the contents in this document at its sole discretion.
2. The organizing committee of the 1st George Washington Model United Nations International Summit Beijing reserves the final right of interpretation for this handbook, referral rules and refund policy.
